To The Entertainments Co-ordinator

Live, hands-on natural history presentations at your home or group.

Please allow me to introduce Impeyan Productions. We are a conservation based company providing fun and educational presentations concerning the wonderful world of wildlife and natural history. Our presentations are directly focused at allowing people to interact directly with live creatures in a fun and informative way. The company has been operating in this capacity for 30 years, although founder Charles Mason, has been caring for and breeding endangered species for most of his life. These projects are funded solely through our presentations and lectures.

All our presenters are experienced, very enthusiastic and highly knowledgeable—we are the longest running and most experienced company in our field. We concentrate on giving the members of the audience a chance to actually experience handling the different animals which can be a great confidence boost in addition to having a great educational and fun aspect. All handling is done under our expert supervision. The presentations start with birds and then move through the different parts of the animal kingdom; to insects, arachnids, amphibians, reptiles and mammals. We give a fascinating and unique insight into the major features of animal groups as well as looking at some of the adaptations the individual animals have.

Much of the wildlife we take to venues is not available to private individuals and we feel very privileged to be able to keep many of our animals, this is only possible through our work with endangered wildlife.

The presentations are easily adapted for many different situations where we can either stand at the front and ask guests to join us in handling the animals, or we can walk into the audience so that everyone has an opportunity to handle and look at the different creatures.

We can provide presentations lasting 45 minutes, 1 hour or 1½ hours for as many groups as required throughout your day (we do have a minimum booking of one hour). We offer a special discount for presentations booked for Monday to Friday between 9.00am and 3.00pm.

Impeyan Productions holds full public liability insurance cover. All of our presenters are CRB checked and members of Equity. Copies of our risk assessment and documents can be requested when booking a presentation.
